

Learning materials and exam vouchers

As the largest provider of certification tests in the world, Pearson VUE offers exclusive pricing on exams, courseware, practice tests, and other certification prep materials from programs like Microsoft, GED, CompTIA, AWS, and VMware.

Multi-modal learning products for today's diverse needs

Because individuals learn in different ways, Pearson VUE works with the world's most respected publishers to bring you a diverse collection of technology learning materials:

- Instructor-led training resources
- Self-study
- Online courseware
- Virtual labs
- eBooks
- Practice tests
- Flashcards and a host of other products

Exam vouchers for the top certifications

Certification exams provide internationally recognized credentials that validate a job seeker's skills and knowledge to employers. Pearson VUE makes it easy to get your students sitting for these exams with pre-paid exam vouchers for leading productivity and IT programs like Microsoft, CompTIA, and LPI. Exams can be bundled with learning products in large or small quantities to meet a variety of needs.

Pearson VUE offers top products for today's classrooms

The GED® program helps learners earn a meaningful high school equivalency credential so they can be better prepared for future career opportunities. This popular credential also helps states and local programs deliver on their Workforce Innovation and Opportunity Act (WIOA) outcomes and metrics.

Microsoft certifications are the industry's premier credentials for a career in technology. From entry-level to seasoned professionals, a role-based certification from Microsoft will help your students keep pace with today's changing business requirements.

uCertify e-learning content is feature-rich with interactive, foundational learning tools designed for you and your students. Pre- and post-assessments, exercises, practice tests and instructional videos seamlessly integrate with your current training offering, giving students the best chance to meet their certification goals.

MeasureUp practice tests provide everything needed for students to pass their certification exams. Endorsed by leading certification vendors including Microsoft, CompTIA, and VMware, MeasureUp's practice tests offer simulated testing environments for today's leading IT certifications.

CompTIA vendor-neutral certifications serve as the perfect starting point for a career in IT. Job seekers holding a CompTIA certification are able to show potential employers that they have the required skills and knowledge to succeed in the information technology industry.

Pearson's award-winning course materials provide an engaging, interactive learning experience focused on achievement. Respected educators and practitioners author Pearson's long-trusted course content in a variety of formats — digital and print — so learners can access them however they like.

Make it easy for students to learn then practice then certify to launch their careers!

Talk to us about providing today's top certification prep materials and exam vouchers at your school.
1-866-977-6315 or PVITProSales@pearson.com